Investment Process

- EPMV is managed by EARNEST Partners, a 100% employee-owned boutique investment manager with over 25 years of experience managing equity and fixed income strategies. The firm's industry expertise, long-tenured teams, consistency in philosophy and process, quality focus, deep fundamental research, and ability to identify companies with strong business fundamentals and attractive long-term prospects.
- Featuring a veteran management team, deep industry knowledge, and an innovative approach to identifying distinguished companies, EPMV offers an opportunity to tap into the growth potential of medium-sized companies with a value focus.
- The ETF seeks long-term total return and invests primarily in common stocks of mid-cap companies. Under normal market conditions, the ETF invests at least 80% of its net assets, plus borrowings for investment purposes, in securities of mid-cap companies that it considers "value" stocks.
- The first step in the investment process is to screen the relevant universe to identify stocks that the team should allocate resources to conducting deep fundamental analysis. Using an internally developed security-screening process by EARNEST called Return Pattern Recognition®, the team seeks to identify companies with characteristics (such as strong financial results, talented management teams, and a demonstrated ability to allocate capital efficiently) that may allow those companies to succeed in a particular industry. Stocks identified in the screening process are then further reviewed deeply by analysts with industry expertise. Only stocks with a substantiated edge and the ability to succeed long term will be considered for addition to the portfolio.
- Approved stocks are added through a portfolio construction process that incorporates risk analysis, with a focus on downside deviation, a measure of downside risk that considers only portfolio combinations that produce returns falling below a minimum acceptable return. This process helps the team determine positioning sizing and how a particular security could fit within a portfolio.

Important Information

For use with institutions only, not for use with retail investors.

The views expressed herein may not be reflective of current opinions, are subject to change without prior notice, and should not be considered investment advice or a recommendation to purchase a particular security.

All investments involve risk including the possible loss of principal. Unlike mutual funds, ETFs may trade at a premium or discount to their net asset value. The ETF is new and has limited operating history to judge.

There is no guarantee that the investment objective of the Fund will be achieved. Stock markets are volatile and equity values can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market and economic conditions. Stocks of mid cap companies pose special risks, including possible illiquidity and greater price volatility than stocks of larger, more established companies. Undervalued securities may take longer to appreciate or never reach full potential value and value investing may underperform at times compared to other styles.

ETFs are subject to capital gains tax and taxation of dividend income. However, ETFs are structured in such a manner that taxes are generally minimized for the holder of the ETF. An ETF manager accommodates investment inflows and outflows by creating or redeeming “creation units,” which are baskets of assets. As a result, the investor usually is not exposed to capital gains on any individual security in the underlying portfolio. However, capital gains tax may be incurred by the investor after the ETF is sold.

The Fund commenced operations on 05/01/2025 and the Fund’s actual performance may vary significantly from the past performance of the Composite. While the accounts comprising the Composite incur inflows and outflows of cash from clients, there can be no assurance that the continuous offering of the Fund’s shares and the Fund’s obligation to redeem its shares will not adversely impact the Fund’s performance. Also, not all of the accounts comprising the Composite are subject to certain investment limitations, diversification requirements and other restrictions imposed by the Investment Company Act of 1940 and the Internal Revenue Code. If these limitations, requirements and restrictions were applicable to all of the accounts in the Composite, they may have had an adverse effect on the performance results of the Composite. However, EARNEST Partners LLC does not believe that such accounts would have been managed in a significantly different manner had they been subject to such investment limitations, diversification requirements and other restrictions.
